Valin Corporation Expands Distributor Relationship with Watlow

Mutually beneficial relationship allows Valin to offer broader range of thermal system solutions

San Jose, Calif. (Mar. 28, 2018)— Valin Corporation, a privately held, employee-owned company providing technical solutions for the technology, energy, life sciences, natural resources, and transportation industries, announces its expanded distributor relationship with Watlow. Watlow is a leading manufacturer of complete thermal systems, and this expanded relationship with Watlow allows Valin to offer a broader range of solutions to its customers and Watlow's.

"Our responsibility is to continue seeking out the best possible solutions for our customers," said Joseph Nettemeyer, President and CEO of Valin Corporation. "Through continuous analysis of our product portfolio, we remain proactive in seeking new strategic partnerships. We are very pleased to announce our new relationship with Watlow as we can now bring its exciting thermal system technology to our customers and Watlow's across the Western United States."

Watlow designs and manufactures complete thermal systems consisting of industrial heaters, temperature sensors, controllers, supporting software and assemblies. Watlow aims to optimize thermal performance, decrease design time and improve efficiency of its products and applications. The enhanced relationship with Watlow allows Valin to provide higher quality, more innovative thermal system solutions than ever before.

"We're excited about the opportunity that this new expanded relationship represents to Watlow to help accelerate our growth in our targeted markets," said Peter Desloge President and CEO of Watlow. "Valin's capabilities and market expertise combined with Watlow's technology and product leadership allow us to continue providing thermal systems that enable our customers to thrive."
